

A PHEONIX FROM THE FLAMES: 41 CLUB TO RELAUNCH (TOWN) ROUND TABLE

41 Club, also known as The Association of Ex-Round Tablers Clubs, is relaunching (TOWN)'s Round Table club on (DATE) to give younger businessmen and professionals the opportunity to join the Round Table family and forge the links with their local community that they once had.

Round Table Clubs aim to unite the community through fundraising initiatives and social events throughout the year. Its members are men aged 18 to 45 who wish to socialise, network and take part in fundraising and community service.

"The Round Table here lapsed some time ago," says (Name), Chairman, (Club). "But in a time when people are increasingly looking for ways to achieve greater fulfillment through a social network involving fun, fellowship and social responsibility, we feel there's a call to bring it back. Anybody who wants to know more about what we can offer, or former members interested in seeing how the family has evolved should get in touch. They may be surprised."

This latest venture from 41 Club forms part of a nationwide 'Phoenix' initiative to revive former Round Table groups and re-establish its presence in local communities across the country, not only helping to raise money for worthy charities, but providing an outlet for an active social life and develop the Association's potential for future growth. The National web site gives more information and can be viewed at www.roundtable.co.uk

The 41 Club, established nationally in 1945, has over 18,000 members and over 870 groups nationwide. Now it is inviting men of (TOWN) to come and take a look at what the Round Table and 41 Club could offer by joining the relaunched Round Table club.
